The information, guidance and materials on all E-ARK websites are provided subject to the following legal notices. Please ensure that you read the notices carefully as use of the E-ARK websites constitutes agreement with the terms of the notices.

1. Copyright

Except where otherwise explicitly stated, we allow our website and its contents to be reused under the terms of the Apache 2.0 License (<http://www.apache.org/licenses/LICENSE-2.0>)

This means you may

- copy, distribute and display our content

But you must

- Give any other recipients of the Work or Derivative Works a copy of this License; and
- Modified files to carry prominent notices stating that You changed the files; and

You must retain, in the Source form of any Derivative Works that You distribute, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices from the Source form of the Work, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works; and

If the Work includes a "NOTICE" text file as part of its distribution, then any Derivative Works that You distribute must include a readable copy of the attribution notices contained within such NOTICE file, excluding those notices that do not pertain to any part of the Derivative Works, in at least one of the following places: within a NOTICE text file distributed as part of the Derivative Works; within the Source form or documentation, if provided along with the Derivative Works; or, within a display generated by the Derivative Works, if and wherever such third-party notices normally appear. The contents of the NOTICE file are for informational purposes only and do not modify the License. You may add Your own attribution notices within Derivative Works that You distribute, alongside or as an addendum to the NOTICE text from the Work, provided that such additional attribution notices cannot be construed as modifying the License.

2. Liability

The E-ARK consortium makes all reasonable efforts to ensure the quality and accuracy of materials on this web server. However, to the extent permitted by law, the E-ARK consortium accepts no liability for any loss or damage resulting directly or indirectly from the use of material on this other web servers managed by the Project. The E-ARK consortium is not responsible for the content of external web sites.

By making use of material on this and other web servers managed by the Project, you accept these copyright and disclaimer provisions.

3. Privacy / Use of your data

The E-ARK consortium is committed to safeguarding the privacy of its users while providing the highest possible quality of service. The E-ARK consortium is not a legal entity but consists of the 16 Partner Institutions (please see section above), which are legal entities.

Each of the Partner Institutions is registered under the Data Protection legislation in force in its own country and is a data controller as defined in that legislation.

Should you wish to access any information that the Partner Institutions store about you, please write to us via the main E-ARK e-mail address published on our contact us page, and we will forward your request to partners as necessary.

Collection of Information from persons interacting with us

In order to allow you to upload events or resources, or to register for E-ARK events, we need to know certain personal information (for example, your e-mail address). The information may be transferred between the E-ARK Partner Institutions but only for the purposes related to the E-ARK project. We will not sell, rent or trade any personal information you provide to us.

4. Cookies

Yes, we use Cookies. To help improve this site we may place small data files onto your computer. Our cookies aren't used to identify you personally. They're just used to make the site work better for you.

They do this by:

- remembering how you like things displayed
- measuring how you use the website so we can make sure it meets your needs
- ensuring the website works properly

You can manage these small files as you wish. You can even decide to stop any site from using them.
